February, 2020

Dear Parents/Guardians of Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh Grade Students:

We would like to make you aware that the SAT Subject Tests are offered on both May 2, 2020, and June 6, 2020. While most colleges require SAT Reasoning Test with Writing or ACT with Writing test scores, the SAT Subject Tests are additional admissions tests required by a select number of the most competitive colleges. SAT Subject Tests are one-hour exams given in the following areas:

• Mathematics Level 1 • Mathematics Level 2 • Biology Ecological/Molecular • Chemistry • Physics • Literature • U.S. History • World History • Chinese with Listening • French • French with Listening • German • German with Listening • Italian • Japanese with Listening • Korean with Listening • Latin • Modern Hebrew • Spanish • Spanish with Listening

Your child may consider taking these tests at the end of this school year. It must be stressed that the majority of schools do not require these exams; however, a limited number of the more competitive schools may require two or three SAT Subject Tests for admission. On one particular test date, a student may take up to three separate subjects.

We firmly believe that the best preparation for these exams is an Advanced Placement course. Therefore, if your child is enrolled in an AP course at this time and he/she is looking towards a highly competitive college, he/she may consider taking these tests in subjects in which they excel. If a student in Regents or honors level coursework elects to take a SAT Subject Test, please be advised that considerable preparation beyond the student's regular coursework may be essential to excel on the test.

Practice materials, information on registration deadlines, advice on test taking approaches, SAT Subject Test-specific information and other resources can be found at collegeboard.org. This website should also be used to register for the exams. Should you have any questions, please contact your child's guidance counselor.

Sincerely,
